A Brief Report

The Department of Political Science recently conducted an Add-On Course from 3rd January, 2022 to 31st March, 2022 on the topic of "Public Interest Litigation (PIL) in India." This course aimed to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of the concept, evolution, significance, and impact of PIL in the Indian legal system. The course was structured to explore various dimensions of PIL, including its historical background, legal framework, procedural aspects, landmark cases, and the role of the stakeholders.

The primary objective of the Add-On course on PIL was to familiarize participants with the concept and practice of PIL in India. Through lectures, discussions, case studies, and interactive sessions. The course aimed to equip participants with the necessary knowledge and skills to comprehend, analyze, and engage with PIL as a tool for social justice and public accountability.

During the Add-On course, chalk and talk method was used along with power point presentations, case analysis, group discussions. Participants were encouraged to participate with the deliberations sharing their perspectives and critically analyzing the issues raised during the session. The students were additionally provided with research materials and on line resources.

The Add-On course on PIL received an overwhelming response from participants. Feedback from participants depicts a significant enhancement in their understanding of PIL, its relevance in the Indian context and its potentiality to remove the injustices occurred in the social, political, economic spheres of the society and to up held the public welfare system.

Report of Add-on Course on
“Ecological and Environmental History of India”
3rd January, 2023 to 6 March, 2023

India exhibits a rich tapestry of ecological and environmental diversity. The environment has significantly influenced the development of Indian history. The primary aims of the supplementary course were to familiarize students with the emerging field of ecological and environmental history, provide insight into the origins of diverse environmental movements that occurred in India, and raise awareness regarding the significant environmental challenges faced by West Bengal and the measures implemented by the governing body to alleviate these issues.

The primary objective of the supplementary course is to provide students with an understanding of environmental history, the nature-human interface, government policies aimed at protecting the planet, the origins of diverse environmental movements that have transpired in India, an analysis of the factors contributing to flooding and soil erosion in West Bengal, and recommendations for addressing the environmental challenges faced by the state of West Bengal.

There have been a total of 18 students enrolled in this course. On March 23, 2023, following the conclusion of the course, a theory examination was administered. All eighteen pupils were present for the examination. Nine students were awarded "A+" grades, seven were awarded "A" grades, one was awarded a "B+" grade, and one was awarded a "B" grade.

A Brief Report

The Department of Political Science conducted an Add-On Course from 16th August, 2022 to 23rd September, 2022 on the topic of "Administrative Culture in India." This comprehensive program aimed to provide participants with a nuanced understanding of the administrative practices, values, and challenges prevalent in India. Regular group discussions and interactive sessions encouraged active participation and knowledge exchange. Participants had the opportunity to share their perspectives and engage in Question & Answering sessions with the teachers. Participants gained hands-on experience in analyzing administrative scenarios and proposing solutions. Continuous assessment through assignments, quizzes, and active participation in discussions ensured ongoing engagement. The final assessment involved a submission of assignment and an MCQ test. The Add-On Course concluded on 23rd September 2022 with a closing ceremony. Participants expressed satisfaction with the depth and breadth of the course content. Participants gained a holistic understanding of administrative culture in India. The course improved critical thinking of the participants and analytical skills in evaluating administrative challenges and enhanced knowledge of ethical decision-making in the context of public service.

The success of the Add-On Course was made possible by the dedicated efforts of the Department of Political Science and the enthusiastic participation of students.

This report serves to highlight the positive outcomes and experiences of the Add-On Course on Administrative Culture in India conducted by the Department of Political Science at Vivekananda Mahavidyalaya, Burdwan, fostering a conducive environment for academic and practical learning.
